Letter From The Pastor...

Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

During Holy Time of Lent, we are reflecting on three Lenten practices: Fasting, Prayer and Almsgiving. Today we continue our reflections on fasting.

We've spent decades debating what we ought to eat. But despite this often-misguided fixation on what to eat, we spend little time studying another, just as crucial question: when to eat. The idea that there are times when we should abstain from eating has been a minority view, to say at least. This is especially strange since fasting is one of the oldest health remedies in history. It has been part of the practice of virtually every culture on earth. Every major religion – Christianity, Judaism, Islam, Buddhism, and Hinduism – incorporates fasting into its practices. And yet rigorous fasting has virtually disappeared from modern life. To be clear, fasting is not starvation. Fasting is the voluntary abstinence from food for spiritual, health, or other reasons. One may fast for any period of time, from a few hours to a few months. Fasting for spiritual purposes is widely practiced in many parts of the world. It remains part of virtually every major religion. The practice of fasting developed independently among different religions and cultures, not as something that was harmful, but something that was deeply helpful to the human body and spirit. Many people assume these are just outdated folk and religious traditions that have no basis in science. But the truth is just opposite. There is now a mountain of scientific and clinical evidence that fasting is good for us, and that it may be the cure for the so-called diseases of civilization that afflict so many people. Viva Christo Rev!
