Pastor's Corner

Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

During our holy time of Lent, I want us to reflect on seven last words of Jesus Christ from the Cross.

Today we hear His third word: "Woman, behold, your son....Behold, your mother." (Jn 19.26) In the first word, we see Jesus praying for and forgiving His enemies. In this third word, he neither prays nor intercedes for His disciples and His loved ones. Instead, we see Him giving missions to them. He was turning over His dearly beloved to one another. He must have been in immeasurable pain with the scourging He received, tired with the carrying of the Cross and badly hurt by the nails on His palm and feet. And that pain was intensified with the sight of His grieving Mother and His depressed and despaired disciple.

There is no greater time to tell His loved ones to fulfill this mission. In the Last Supper, He gave the commandment to His disciples to love one another. And moments before His final breath, He gave this same solemn command. Let us imagine that Jesus was speaking not only to His Mother and His Beloved Disciple. He was speaking to you, to me, to all of us. This must make us proud. But this must make us more humble. We know our human limitations.

But Jesus knows them more. Yet, He gave us the command to take care of one another. What last will He did leave us. He did give us not only a gift. He also gave us a challenge. Let not our limitations imperil us into not acting and fulfilling this mission, in our own little ways. Being a Christian may take diverse expressions. The only measure is- are we faithful to the solemn mission? Jesus does not act so much. He does not ask us of our grand plans, nor does He demand of us for things great. He just asks us to fulfill the mission He has entrusted to us. He does not call us to be effective. Rather, He calls us to be faithful.

Here is another way on looking on those words: In his most agonizing moments, Jesus gives all of us, as His disciples, the gift of his Mother. He entrusts us to each other. We can turn to Mary with confidence, knowing that She loves us as a Mother and wants nothing more for us than to remain close to Her Son. We can be assured of Her prayers for us and find comfort in Her heart, a heart completely full of love for Jesus.

Viva Cristo Rey!
